DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-39 are in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 28 includes a reference to “YbaCuO compounds” which have no proper antecedent basis in the specification. Additionally the recitation “uses liquid nitrogen as a cryogenic liquid” also lacks proper antecedent.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 3617

5. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1 and 9 of U. S. Patent No. 7,172,474 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

Claim 1 recites "A power generation, distribution and on-board electrical power supply system for low-emission surface vessel navy vessels of various classes and sizes. Claim 1 of the patent recites "An electrical power supply system for a ship". Clearly the power supply system must include a distribution system.

Claim 1 of the application further recites "at least one cruise propulsion system, supplyable with electric power from a DC network". The power system disclosed in the patent is for supplying power to a propulsion system.

Claim 1 further recites "at least one additional propulsion system". Claim 3 of the patent recites a gas turbine and a diesel engine as the engine drives.

Claim 1 of the patent further recites "wherein the AC and DC power supply systems are connected to one another such that electrical power is interchangeable between them".

With reference to claim 2, claim 9 of the patent recites "the DC power supply system is fed from fuel cells that have a DC switching system with a monitoring and control system.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3-27 and 29-39 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claim 28 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 7/30/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

9. Applicant argues that “Although claim 1 of Rzađki recites “a DC power supply system” and an “AC power supply system,” claim 1 does not recite “for use in a surface vessel” or “wherein the electrical power from the two systems is interchangeable,” as alleged in the Office Action.”

10. We respectfully disagree. Claim 1 of Rzađki recites “An electrical power supply system for a ship”. Clearly, a ship is a surface vessel. Claim 1 of Rzađki further recites “wherein the AC and DC power supply systems are interconnected to one another such that electrical power is interchangeable”.

Art Unit: 3617

11. With respect to the other structure recited in claim 1 of Rzaeki, it is noted that this is not a double patenting rejection under 35 USC 101. The present rejection is a nonstatutory double patenting based on MPEP 804, as noted above.

Conclusion

12. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
